Share this: The seeds of revolution in Iran have been waiting to sprout for more than 40 years. Their time has finally come. The Iranian people are becoming more and more restless and frustrated. The Obama regime in Washington is in a state of panic over Iran, and is doing everything it can to take out the regime. It is out of desperation that the Obama regime has announced that it will renew negotiations with Iran. For the Obama regime, this is the last straw. It is a desperate attempt to save its existence. The US and it's allies fear a strong, independent, and militarily powerful Iran. The mullahs in Iran believe they have reached the pinnacle of power. And they are right. But a nation that would allow its leaders to cut deals with America that guarantee them 10,000 more nuclear weapons is a nation that is planning to ruin itself and it's neighbors. The Iran deal with the big five (China, France, Russia, Germany, and the US) gives Iran $100 billion in sanctions relief and $1.7 billion a day for ten years. It has given the mullahs everything they want. Their military budget is two times the size of that of Israel. They are developing long range missiles that have the capacity to hit Israel and beyond. They are on the verge of becoming a nuclear power. And this is not all. The Obama regime in Washington will give the mullahs $5 billion a month if they give up their nuclear weapons program. And if the mullahs do not give up their nuclear weapons, America will destroy their country, and it will be a complete and total victory for the US. This is the fate of 09e8f5149f
